

HOW ARE YOU PERFORMING

OPTIMISE YOUR PROFITABILITY WITH CORPORATE PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT

KEEPING ON TARGET

You know where you want your business to be, but how do you make sure it gets there? In other words, how do you align your day-to-day operations with your strategic goals? A Corporate Performance Management (CPM) solution can help. CPM lets you identify your most profitable products, customers and processes and act accordingly. It gives you the tools to make budgeting, consolidation, reporting and risk management more efficient, focused and integrated across all your lines of business. And – most importantly – it places information at the fingertips of your company's decision makers, removing uncertainty and ensuring that the entire organisation works towards the same strategic objectives.

MAXIMISING YOUR RETURN

Affecto works with you to design and build your CPM architecture from the ground up, fast and reliably. Independent of vendors, we have no favourites when it comes to CPM software suites, but help you find and implement a solution to fit your needs. All of our consultants have direct corporate planning experience as well as a proven track record of implementing CPM solutions for more than 100 large companies across the Nordic region. So, aside from great technical expertise, we bring you a true understanding of CPM and the business processes it aims to support. That's why, by choosing Affecto as your CPM partner, you can be sure to maximise your return on investment.

THE AFFECTO DIFFERENCE

At Affecto, we see CPM in the bigger picture. Helping you turn data into profit is our passion, and we know and understand the extensive range of data management tools at your disposal. Thus, we make certain that your CPM solution works seamlessly with your wider Business Intelligence and Data Warehouse architecture. We transfer knowledge to you, giving you ownership to run and maintain the solution in future. And we ensure it is scalable, supporting your business as it grows and changes. In brief, we will not just provide you with a successful CPM solution – we will be your trusted advisor, helping you reach your business goals now and for years to come.
